Cooper, W. R. Electro-chemistry related to engineering. 136 pp. $8\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ins. Diagrams. 1923. Constable. 12/6

Contents: Electrolytic corrosion by stray earth currents; effects of superimposing alternating currents on direct currents; the corrosion of brass; electric osmosis and cataphoresis; electrical precipitation of dust, smoke and fumes; electro-culture; the relative importance of cheap power and cheap freights.

537 Electricity (C000)

620.1122 Engineering materials: corrosion. (D658)

Pollitt, Alan A. The Causes and prevention of corrosion. 230 pp. 10 × 7½ins. Illus. 1923. Benn. 25/-

Author is an associate of the Manchester College of Technology.

Object is to provide a general reference book for those interested, and to give practically useful information on the various parts of the subject, including the theory, causes, and prevention of corrosion of metals.

621 Mechanical engineering. (B101)

Linley, C. M. Details of typical mechanisms. viii, 104 pp. 7½ × 4¾ins. Illus. 1923. Scott Greenwood. 6/-

Elementary notes on ratchets, clutches, gears, joints, screws, brakes, reversing mechanisms, belt and chain drives, worm gears, stops and releasing mechanisms, and ball bearings.

621.8 Hoisting and conveying machinery. (B117)

Broughton, H. H. The Electrical handling of materials: a manual on the design, construction, and application of cranes, conveyors, hoists, and elevators. 4 v. 10¾ × 8½ins. Illus. Diagrams. 1920-1923. Benn. 150/-

Author is M. I. Mech. E., M.I.E.E.

V. 1, Electrical equipment.

V. 2, Structural work.

V. 3, Electric cranes.

V. 4, Machinery and methods.

621.8775 Lifts: electric. (B117)

Grierson, Ronald. Electric lift equipment for modern buildings. xii, 179 pp. 8¾ × 5¾ins. Illus. 1923. Chapman & Hall. 15/-

"A practical guide to selection, installation, operation and maintenance."—Sub-title.

622.13 Mineral surveys. (D620.107)

Louis, Henry. Mineral valuation. x, 281 pp. 9 × 6¼ins. Illus. 1923. Griffin. 15/-

Author (M.I.C.E., F.G.S.) is professor of mining, Armstrong College, University of Durham, and Associate, Royal School of Mines.

The history and traditions of the festival of Christmas.

NATURAL SCIENCE.

501 Science. (A900.5)
Harris, David Fraser. Life and science. 204 pp. 7½ × 5ins. 1923. Melrose. 7/6
Author is professor of physiology in Dalhousie University, Halifax, Nova Scotia.
The latest results of scientific thought applied as a general philosophy of life.
171 Ethics.

510 Mathematics. (A400)

Sanden, Horst von. Practical mathematical analysis. Trans. by H. Levy. xv, 195 pp. 9 × 6ins. Diagrams. 1923. Methuen. 10/6

Author is professor of mathematics at the University of Clausthal.

Object is to bridge the gap between the theoretical mathematician and the practical scientist by providing detailed arithmetical and graphical methods of effecting the processes of applied mathematics. Bibliog., 4 pp.

531 Relativity. (B020)

Lorentz, H. A., and others. The Principles of relativity : a collection of original memoirs on the special and general theory of relativity. Trans. by W. Perrett and G. B. Jeffery. viii, 216 pp. 9 × 5¾ins. Diagrams. 1923. Methuen. 12/6

With notes by A. Sommerfield.

A collection of earlier papers by H. A. Lorentz, A. Einstein, H. Minkowski, and H. Weyl, to indicate how the present day theory of relativity gradually grew under the stimulus of physical experiment.

532 Hydraulics. (D170)

Lewitt, E. H. Hydraulics. viii, 261 pp. 8½ × 5½ins. Illus. Diagrams. 1923. Pitman. 8/6

Author is lecturer in mechanical engineering at the City and Guilds College, South Kensington.

"A text book covering the syllabuses of the B.Sc. (Eng.), A.M. Inst. C.E., and A.M.I. Mech. E. examinations in this subject."—Sub-title.

The theory of hydraulics and its applications ; does not deal with design problems. Mathematical references have been made as elementary as possible. Exercises at ends of chapters.

533 Gases. (D720)

Gibbs, William E. Clouds and smokes : the properties of disperse systems in gases and their practical applications. 240 pp. 9 × 5¾ins. Illus. Diagrams. 1924. Churchill. 10/6

Foreword by Sir Oliver Lodge.

A comprehensive account of the properties and behaviour of aerosols, and of their practical and industrial applications. Bibliog. at end of each chapter.

537 Electricity. (C000)

Starling, S. G. Elementary electricity. viii, 248 pp. 7½ × 5ins. Illus. Tables. Maps. 1923. Longmans. 3/6

Author is head of the department of physics, West Ham municipal college.

A general introductory text-book of electricity and magnetism for class students with a knowledge of elementary mathematics. Aims to give a general view of the subject in its present stage of development.

538 Magnetism.

537.85 Electro-plating. (D610)

Hughes, W. E. Modern electro-plating. vii, 160 pp. 10 × 6½ins. Illus. 1923. (Oxford technical publications). Frowde & Hodder. 16/-

Author was formerly examiner in electro-metallurgy, City and Guilds of London Institute, 1910-1914.

"A guide-book for platers, works chemists and engineers."—Sub-title. Bibliog., 3 pp.

541.2 Atoms. (B004)

Sullivan, J. W. N. Atoms and electrons. 188 pp. 7 × 4¾ins. [1923]. Hodder & Stoughton. 2/6

A brief popular introduction to the subject.

543.1 Analysis of food. (D730)

Thurston, Azor. Pharmaceutical and food analysis. xiii, 416 pp. 9½ × 6½ins. 1923. Chapman & Hall. 21/-

Author is chemist, Ohio Dairy and Food Department.

"A manual of standard methods for the analysis of oils, fats and waxes, and substances in which they exist; together with allied products."—Sub-title.

For analytical chemists engaged in the analysis of foods, etc. Deals with instruments and methods used Bibliog. at end of each section.

546 Chemistry: elements. (D705)
Loring, F. H. The Chemical elements. viii, 171 pp. 9 × 5¾ins. Diagrams. 1923. Methuen. 8/6

Object is to group and present in a concise form certain characteristics of the chemical elements, which are difficult to appreciate when taken as isolated phenomena. Includes electron binding processes in atomic structure, in radiation phomena and in electro magnetic reactions.

570 Biology. (E000)
Thomson, J. Arthur. Everyday biology. 192 pp. 7 × 4¾ins. 1923. Hodder. 2/6

Author is regius professor of natural history, Aberdeen University.
A popular introduction to a biological way of thinking, rather than a comprehensive study of biological science.

590 Zoology. (F000)
Kearton, Cherry. Photographing wild life across the world. 319 pp. 10 × 6½ins. Illus. 1923. Arrowsmith. 25/-

Records of expeditions in Africa, India, Borneo, American Rockies, and Canada in search of photographs of birds, insects and big game in their natural haunts.
